DAVID FILIP

Public and Medical Misinformation on Valley Fever

David Filip is the passionate author of Valley Fever Epidemic, a book endorsed by leading Valley Fever medical doctors and vaccine research professionals. He has been interviewed on Voice of America, BBC, the New York Times, PBS, Animal Planet, and other television and radio broadcasts.

As a co-founder of Valley Fever Survivor he has organized petitions, fundraising programs, awareness campaigns, and the formation of support groups. His extensive research makes <http://www.valleyfeversurvivor.com> the only comprehensive and up-to-date web site available on this disease for the general public. David has a BA in Communications from the University of Washington and is the author of several non-fiction books.
